Dear Fellow Single Parent

I am pleased that you want to start a Parents Without Partners Chapter in your community. Parents Without Partners was founded in 1957 to serve the needs of single parents and children of one-parent families. Today the single parent family faces many issues and concerns that are unique to single parents, and Parents Without Partners, as an organization, is dedicated to helping single parents and their children cope successfully with the changes in their lives. As a social and educational force, Parents Without Partners is widely recognized and respected.

Parents Without Partners is made up of locally organized chapters which started much as you are starting now—with a few concerned, interested individuals. We are a truly self-help organization. We are here to help one another, and we do.

PWP is an all-volunteer organization. Volunteer members do all of the work! Officers are elected to chapter boards of directors annually, and they, along with committee members, plan and carry out the administrative and educational programming. All members are encouraged and expected to be involved members, whether they serve on a committee, as an officer, or just support the activities of the chapter by attending.

Parents Without Partners chapters offer many activities for single parents and their children ... all planned and hosted by volunteer members. Each chapter has a variety of educational, family and adult social activities. There are guidelines for chapters on scheduling their activities so as to stay in balance with our mission to provide support for single parent families.

I am enclosing/attaching FACTS ABOUT SINGLE PARENTS and SO, YOU WANT TO START A PWP CHAPTER. After you have reviewed this information please contact me and we can discuss starting a chapter in your community. In order to successfully charter a new chapter it is important that we work together to achieve this goal. I hope to hear from you soon.

Sincerely,

(contact information: name, address, phone, e-mail address)

SO, YOU WANT TO START A PARENTS WITHOUT PARTNERS CHAPTER!

You will need to begin by holding an organizational meeting.

1. SECURE an organizational meeting FACILITY. It is best if the facility is in a public place. Many people are uncomfortable going to someone's home if they do not know them. Also, the meeting location will need to be announced and advertised. People usually do not want their home address publicized.
 - A community room at a library or bank, a school, church, or hall (Elks, Moose) are some suggestions. The facility should be free or at a nominal charge. Parents Without Partners is a non-profit organization, and free facilities are often available to them.
2. DETERMINE the DATE for the organizational meeting. The date may depend on when the facility is available. What is the best night of the week in your area? (If Wednesday is known to be "church night" in your area that may not be a good night to meet.) Or is a Saturday or Sunday afternoon a better time for a first meeting? Check with other interested single parents to determine what will work best. However, no one afternoon/night is going to be ideal for everyone.
 - Whenever possible, a knowledgeable PWP member will conduct the organizational meeting. If distance and location make this impossible, information and materials will be provided for the meeting presentation.
3. MAKE a LISTING of all the NEW MEDIA (newspapers, radio, and TV stations) in the area you want the chapter to serve. Most of the information can be found in the phone book. Go to your public library if you do not have phone books for all of the service area. The listing needs to have NAMES, ADDRESSES including ZIP Codes and PHONE NUMBERS. You may need to make phone calls to get complete information. NEWS RELEASE and PUBLIC SERVICE ANNOUNCEMENTS (PSAs) need to be mailed to the news media THREE WEEKS PRIOR to the Organizational meeting.
4. PREPARE the NEW RELEASES, PSA's and the FLYERS announcing the organizational meeting. List the TIME, DATE, and MEETING FACILITY INFORMATION including complete ADDRESS, DIRECTIONS, PURPOSE of the meeting and CONTACT PHONE NUMBER. The news release needs to be mailed to the new media. The flyers need to be posted and handed out around the chapter service area; community bulletin boards, stores, social service agencies, libraries, any place willing to post the flyer. Postings and handouts should be done TWO to THREE weeks PRIOR to the organizational meeting. SAMPLE news releases, PSAs and flyers are available from the person assisting you.
5. Other ideas of PUBLICIZE the organizational meeting are to contact the schools in the area as well as apartment complex managers. ASK the schools if they are will to give flyers (you provide) to the students or put the information in the school newsletter. Apartment complex managers may be willing to give flyers (you provide) to their tenants and/or put the information in their apartment complex newsletter.
 - A PWP member (usually a Zone Officer or a Regional Officer) will assist you in starting the chapter. You will need to discuss starting the chapter with the person helping you before proceeding.

The first key to getting a PWP chapter started is GOOD PUBLICITY! The more you do the better your chances are for success.

The second key to success is MAINTAINING COMMUNICATION with the PWP members assisting you. This person is experienced and knowledgeable, can answer your questions and provide you with information and support, and guide you through the necessary steps to charter the chapter.

FACTS ABOUT PARENTS WITHOUT PARTNERS

WHERE NEW FRIENDSHIPS BEGIN

MISSION STATEMENT

Parents Without Partners provides single parents and their children with an opportunity for enhancing personal growth, self-confidence, and sensitivity towards others by offering an environment for support, friendship, and the exchange of parenting techniques.

Parents Without Partners, Inc., is an international, non-profit membership organization devoted to the welfare and interests of single parents and their children. Single parents may join one of many chapters; they may be male or female, custodial or non-custodial, separated, divorced, widowed, or never married.

Parents Without Partners was founded in 1957 in New York City by two single parents: Jim Egleston, a non-custodial parent, and Jacqueline Bernard, a custodial parent. As concerned parents, they felt isolated from society because of their marital status, and decided to form a mutual support organization. Following their first newspaper advertisements directed to "Parents Without Partners", 25 single parents attended the first meeting in a Greenwich Village church basement. Later, media attention brought inquiries from all over the country.

Parents Without Partners Today

- Thousands of members in the United States and Canada
- 65% female, 35% male
- Ages range from 18 to 80; most have teenage or older children.
- Average length of membership is four years.
- Approximately 85% of the membership is separated or divorced.
- Never married members are under-represented in PWP compared to national statistics.
- Widowed parent membership is comparable to national statistics.
- PWP Members are typical middle class North Americans. They come from all walks of life, representing a kaleidoscope of occupations, interests, income brackets, and educational attainment.
- Some PWP members have only recently become single parents, while some have been single for some time. Some are sophisticated; other have led sheltered lives. All are in a process of transition and change, and seek help from PWP.
- PWP members are of all faiths and political beliefs.
- All chapter members are verified as being single parents by members or professionals in the community.

Parents Without Partners Chapters

- Chapters range in size from 15 to 300 members.
- Chapters are run entirely by volunteer members who assume a variety of leadership roles.
- All chapters, to comply with their PWP International Charter, must run programs balanced among three areas:

Educational, family, and adult social/recreational programs.

- Educational activities may be group discussions, lectures by psychologists, attorneys, or other professionals, and also workshops.
- Family activities may include, but are not limited to, picnics, hikes, camping, sports, etc. for children and their parent. These activities may be unique in that they are the one place where children can interact with other single parent children.
- Adult social/recreational activities help single parents learn to relate again with other adults as single parents.
- Chapters also conduct community involvement programs. These include community outreach (providing speakers for seminars and workshops in the community), fund raising for national and local charities, or cooperative exchanges (such as baby-sitting, clothing or toy exchanges).
- Chapters are organized under Regional Councils, which elect officers, coordinate programs, provide training to chapters and sponsor regular conferences.
- Regional Councils are organized into Zones, which elect officers, coordinate programs, provide training to Regional Councils and sponsor annual conferences.
- There are 9 Zones which cover the 50 states and most Canadian Provinces.

Parents Without Partners International Services

As an international organization Parents Without Partners offers the following services to all members:

- The Single Parent Newsletter free for members.
- Advocacy—PWP speaks for all single parents and their children on Capitol Hill, at conferences, in national coalitions, and in workshops. The International Board of Directors supports legislative policies and priorities to further the interests of single parent families.
- An Annual Convention—Every year at the annual meeting, members conduct organization business, elect officers and attend workshops on both single parenting subjects and how to run PWP programs at the chapter level. Children and adults receive special awards for arts and talent.
- Organization awards—Single Parent of the Year is presented to PWP's outstanding parent.
- Distinguished Service to Children Award is presented to a person or group outside PWP that has made a great contribution to children and teens.
- Scholarships—PWP teens compete for college scholarships.
- Affiliation with U.S. Department of Education and U.S. Health & Human Services which allows our members to be up to date on educational and health issue important to single parents.
- Website—Featuring Chat Room for members to exchange ideas, bulletin boards where members can ask for and receive help with problems and find address to contact IBOD members; plus an Events Page where members find out what is happening in other areas around the country; and a Chapter Search section to locate chapters in their area.

Any Questions?

After this presentation if current PWP members are there you might ask them to speak briefly of their experience.

If it is determined that there is very little interest in forming a new chapter, you may not want to continue further with the presentation. You might suggest another organizational meeting be held before the participants decide not to proceed with a chapter.

If there is interest, do the following to get started:

- Appoint temporary chair, secretary, and treasurer

- Name the chapter

- Establish dues

- Sign up new members. Be enthusiastic!

 - Remind them of eligibility requirement and professional reference

 - Dues must be paid at the time the application is taken. If they cannot pay then, suggest they attend the next meeting to complete paperwork.

- After application is filled in and dues paid they may sign the charter petition.

Open an account at a local bank. Obtain a post office box. Arrange for a regular meeting facility.

- Recruit a Professional Advisory Committee.

THANK everyone for attending the meeting. Ask again to be sure everyone signed in. End the meeting with positive comments and encourage everyone to attend the next meeting.

After the meeting would be the time to speak individually with attendees over coffee and light refreshments.
